Tikal and its Wooden Memory: Current Research on Classic Maya Lowland Politics, History and Narratives

13. – 15. Oktober 2023, 10.00–17.00 Uhr

The three lintels from Tikal in Guatemala, preserved in the Museum der Kulturen Basel, are considered the best-known wooden monuments of the Maya Classic (250 - 900 AD). Due to their complex textual and pictorial content, they are of central importance for the understanding of Maya religion, politics, history and art. At the conference, 24 leading scholars from Guatemala, Mexico, USA, Australia, Great Britain and Germany will present their latest research results.

With curator Alexander Brust and Christian Prager, SAGW, SAG, Universität Bonn, NRW Akademie der Wissenschaften, TWKM

Limited number of participants. Participation upon registration at alexander.brust@bs.ch with a short CV. All selected participants will receive a confirmation. Priority in selection: scientists, students and indigenous representatives.

Conference fee CHF 80.00 / CHF 40.00 (students)
