FUROSHIKI, WASHI AND CO – WRAPPING PRESENTS JAPANESE STYLE

28 November 2020, 11:00 AM - 16:00 PM

A Japanese furoshiki is a square piece of cloth that is used for different purposes: as a type of lunchbox, as a carrier bag for personal items, or for wrapping presents. Participants are introduced to different knotting and folding techniques for elegantly wrapping objects of different size and shape in either cloth or paper. In this way, the wrap itself already becomes a gift.
